Cross out the incorrect spellings above:

Today we will create our names using a style that you often see on railway wagons.

Fonts come in two styles. "Serif" and "Sans serif"

A serif is the little extra bit that some fonts have.

Sans is French for "without". Some fonts have no serif.

Topic 2 Ukulele

In Hawaiian, the word ukulele (from 'uku, "flea," and lele, "jumping").

In te Reo flea is puruhi. Jump is pekepeke

There is no "L" in te Reo. How would you name this instrument in Māori?

Reading ukulele chord diagrams

Here are some one finger chords to practice first

Notice that finger 1 is on fret 1, finger 2 on fret 2, and finger 3 on fret 3.

This often happens, but NOT ALWAYS.

RIGHT HAND strums.

WHAT IS A CORRECT STRUMMING TECHNIQUE?

Moving your arm rapidly up and down gets tiring very quickly.

When you strum, use your wrist rather than your whole arm.

Whenever you are strumming down, you should be hitting the strings with your nail(s).

When you're strumming up, you should be hitting them with the fleshy tip of your finger.

More ukulele chords

A chord means more than one single note being played at a time.

(Not cord, that is a piece of string.)

There are many chords. They are named after the letters of the alphabet and the keys on a piano or keyboard. They come in three main variations. MAJOR, MINOR, SEVENTH.

Each variation has its own special sound.

There are more chords named after the black notes on a keyboard which are known as SHARPS (#) or FLATS (b)

These black notes have two names.

There are even more chords with names like

A minor seventh. Am7 or C major seventh Cmaj7

They may sound complicated but they are sometimes very easy to play.

Topic Birds:

We are going to look at three four artists drew and painted birds.

James Audubon who made a book of American birds 200 years ago.

He didn't shoot birds with a camera, he used a gun. Why?

Raymond Ching came from Wellington and he drew and painted birds in great detail. Sometime he drew the same bird from different angles several times on one page.

This could be called an (unscramble the letters)

sistratt dutys

Another New Zealand artist who is famous for his bird paintings is Don Binney. He started drawing and painting birds quite realistically. Later his bird shapes became part of a design.

Sometimes they were flying over well known buildings.

What sort of building is this one?

Here is a clue:

Bill Hammond, another famous artist from

Ōtautahi painted imaginary birds that sometimes had human like characteristics.

Thoth. Egyptian god of wisdom

What is the English name for the place where Bill Hammond worked?

We are going to create a bird from a scribble.

- Steps:
- 1 Everyone does a timed (2-3 seconds) random scribble on a piece of paper.
 - 2 Turn over the paper and repeat,
 - 3 The scribbles are collected, shuffled, then given to the class. Mostly each student will have scribbles done by someone else.
 - 4 Find fantasy bird shapes in the scribbles. Use a pencil and eraser to add or modify the scribble.
 - 5 Draw a frame, and add your name to the outside, Then an environment for your bird.
 - 6 Use a black graphite water soluble pencil with water and a brush to carefully complete the picture with different shades of grey and textures.

- 7 Finished? You can do another bird. Maybe invent one or research real bird and draw it, this time using colours.

How did you go? (Put a mark somewhere on the line.)

Fantastic--Good---OK---Not my best.

I created my own original bird from a scribble.

<----->

I drew a freehand frame and named my work.

<----->

I used watercolour graphite pencil, brush an water.

<----->

I created lots of different shades of grey.

<----->

I added texture and an environment.

<----->

I completed a second art work in colour.

WRITING A POEM

Name

Here is an eight line poem starting "If I was a cat..."

If I was a cat I would sleep in the sun,
Exploring the world would be lots of fun.
Furry and fluffy, I'd sleep through the night,
Then in the morning, I'd vanish from sight.
I'd purr in contentment, I would lie on your knee,
With a purr I would say, "Now it's time to feed me",
If I was a cat, oh what fun it would be,
To live in your house and with your family.

If I was a cat I'd have sensitive whiskers,
This sense of touch would help me explore
The world and find my way,
Through the house and the garden
Finding wonders and treasures.
Then in the evening I would climb on your pillow
And gently brushing your cheek
I would purr my "Good night"

Your task is to create an eight line poem starting "If I was a bird" and do a little drawing to go with it.

While some poems, (like the one on the left) have rhyming words not all do. (Read the one on the right.)

However each line has its own idea. You decide, rhyming or not.

ANZAC POEM & STORY

5	Swords on the end of rifles
6	Combined armies of Australia and New Zealand
7	Celebrating with a drink
8	People who have demonstrated bravery
9	In the middle of
10	Soaked
11	Feeling sad
12	One against the other

“No to honour my great great uncle Tai. Or should that be three greats?”
“And my father who died after serving in the second world war. I am going to wear one of his medals. Do you want to wear one that Tai got posthumously? OK, but it doesn't sound too humorous to me.” Piripi concluded, scratching his head.

The last line of the story says Piripi was scratching his head. Do you know why ?
(No he did NOT have nits!!!)

“No. I believe Tai was a teenager when he died.” There were about half a million soldiers died in that battle, not just Kiwis and Aussies, but English, Canadians and the Germans as well. Absolutely senseless loss of life! “ Koro added passionately.” They were buried on the battlefield, and before long red poppies were growing over them.”

What did Koro think about war? What words explain his feelings?

From Northland and Auckland,
Waikato and three bays
From the mountains and the forests,
City streets and country ways.
From the sounds in sun drenched Marlborough,
The plains, the alps the coast.
The young men of our country,
Volunteered- when needed most
Young men of our country, so many lives to lose Remembering those lives gives me the ANZAC blues .

Unscramble the "Three Bays" in the poem? And match with a city name from the little map.

ART TASKS

Draw an illustration for story or the poem

or

Design a medal to give to soldiers

or

Make a poster saying "WE WILL REMEMBER THEM"

Plan your ideas here, then complete on Art paper

Here is a song that was written soon after the war.
It was welcoming back the soldiers.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=j9ghsYzWuLA>

Haere Mai
Everything is kapai
You're here at last
You're really here at last
Haere Mai
Not a cloud in the sky
To coin a phrase
This is the day of days

You're welcome as the sunshine
You're welcome as a king
Paikare this is one time
We'll really have a fling

Haere Mai
Everything is kapai
Throughout the land
We want to shake your hand

Haere Mai
We're proud of you
Thats why

Repeat all, then
Haere Mai, Haere Mai, Haere Mai

The marching song of the 28th Maori Battalion, written by soldier Cpl Anaia Amohou. The battalion of 3500 members went on to win fame in World War Two in Greece, Crete, North Africa and Italy.

when the Maoris went to war
They fought and fought until the

for the honour of their tribe
And so we carry on
This proud tradition
You will always hear :

Maori Battalion march to victory
Maori Battalion staunch and true
Maori Battalion march to glory
Take the honour of the people with

We will march, march, march to the enemy
And we'll fight right to the end.
For God! For King! And for Country!
