

Georgia Totto O'Keeffe (November 15, 1887 – March 6, 1986) was an American modernist painter and draftsman whose career spanned seven decades and whose work remained largely independent of major art movements. Called the "Mother of American modernism", O'Keeffe gained international recognition for her paintings of natural forms, particularly flowers and desert-inspired landscapes, which were often drawn from and related to places and environments in which she lived.
